North Dakota Agri-Women Midyear Report

North Dakota Agri-Women membership continues to increase as we branch further out into the western half of the state. We just held our annual meeting February 25th in Jamestown, ND and have set plans forth for 2017 outreach events willing members may participate in.

Membership dues and fundraising efforts have allowed NDAW to support and participate in agricultural events. Many volunteer hours and elbow grease have helped put our affiliate back into active mode and we are all proud of all that was accomplished in 2016.

The activities listed below were put on by members of NDAW:

- Ag Day Baby Project (first baby born on Ag Day receives a basket of goodies)
- Ag in the Classroom
- Harvest of Knowledge (put on by Minnesota and North Dakota Agri-Women)
- Red River Valley Fair Volunteer Day

The following activities were sponsored in part by NDAW:

- NDSU Ag Week
- ND Ag Coalition Dues paid
- Local FFA Scholarship
- NDAW Member Sponsorship to attend a National Event

NDAW took a huge step forward as an organization by voting on the new logo to represent NDAW this past February. When I look at where our affiliate has been to where we are today- I am humbled by the women who had the courage to begin NDAW, in awe of everyone making it possible today, and am full of hope for future members to continue the tradition. Let's make 2017 one to remember!

Respectfully Submitted,

Jenna Kylo

NDAW President
