

For Immediate Release

American Agri-Women Honors Sara Wyant with Journalism Award

PHOENIX (AgPR) Dec. 5, 2021 — American Agri-Women \(AAW\) proudly presented Sara Wyant of Missouri the “American Agri-Women Journalism Award” at their recent convention in Phoenix, Arizona. Sara has been a long-time member of AAW since her work with Illinois Agri-Women in the 1980’s, and her demonstrative commitment to agriculture and AAW over time is second to none.

“Sara is so exceptionally talented and a credible journalist. We treasure her as a member, a friend, and a sister in agriculture. She is a true champion of telling the story of agriculture and reporting the state and national ag issues that affect daily farm policy,” said Karolyn Zurn, Past President of American Agri-Women.

Sara has served on many AAW committees over the years and has been helpful at many AAW Fly-Ins to Washington D.C., where members from across the county meet with legislators and share AAW position statements. She was a previous recipient of the organization’s highly esteemed Veritas Award for giving public witness to “the pursuit of truth” in accordance with the principles enunciated in the AAW State of Philosophy: The Call to Power.

Sara Wyant (right) accepted the American Agri-Women (AAW) Journalism Award from Karolyn Zurn (left), Past President of AAW, at the organization’s recent national convention in Phoenix, Ariz.

She has also received the AAW Leaven Award for her outstanding efforts for agriculture and service to AAW.

Sara started Agri-Pulse in 2004 to report weekly to legislators, national media and the entire agriculture community. Her newsletter and website, www.Agri-Pulse.com, includes the latest updates on farm policy, commodity and conservation programs, trade, food safety, rural development, and environmental and regulatory programs. In addition, she publishes an early morning news summary, Daily Harvest, Agri-Pulse Daybreak, and Agri-Pulse DriveTime podcast.

Sara now lives in Missouri with her husband, Allan Johnson. She is the mother of 2 sons, Jason and Jordan. She maintains a Washington, D.C. office as well as one in Sacramento, CA.

AAW members have been advocating for agriculture since 1974. Any woman with interest or ties to the agriculture industry are encouraged to join! Learn more at americanagriwomen.org.

About American Agri-Women

[American Agri-Women \(AAW\)](http://American Agri-Women (AAW)) promotes the welfare of our national security through a safe and reliable food, fiber and energy supply. Since 1974, AAW members have worked together to educate consumers, advocate for agriculture, and offer networking and professional development opportunities. Go to the AAW web site for more information and to join, www.americanagriwomen.org. Find AAW on social media at: Facebook.com/AgriWomen, Twitter.com/Women4Ag (@Women4Ag) and Instagram.com/americanagriwomen (@americanagriwomen). #women4ag #agriwomen #standupspeakout4ag

#

Media Contact:

Laura Hart
VP, Communications
American Agri-Women
806-647-5911 - mobile communications@americanagriwomen.org
www.americanagriwomen.org

Editor's Note: This is being sent to you via AgPR, www.AgPR.com, the news release distribution service for agriculture. AgPR is an "opt-in" service provided at no charge to journalists who report on agricultural topics. We encourage you to forward this info to other journalists you think will find it of interest. If you've received this from a peer and would like to receive future agricultural e-news briefs, please contact Warren E. Clark via e-mail at warren.clark@ccimarketing.com or by phone at (847) 836-5100. AgPR is a service provided by CCI Marketing, www.ccimarketing.com.

Copyright ©2022 Clark Consulting International, Inc. – CCI Marketing – AgNewsCenter.com
All Rights Reserved

For further information on AgNewsCenter contact: Warren E. Clark 1-847-836-5100

