

American Agri-Women
Road to Influence: Engage | Lead | Impact
Employer Supporting Statement
2023-2024 Inaugural Cohort

---

Investment in leadership training requires support from many people. Your employee is applying to be a part of the American Agri-Women Road to Influence program, thus committing to the program. As this individual's employer, you must also make a commitment. Participants are required to attend seminars, requiring time away from work. Your commitment and support is critical to success in this program.

Candidate Name

---

I understand the applicant named above will be away from my company/business for seminars over a 15 month time frame, including four in person events and monthly virtual sessions. The applicant named above has my authorization to participate in the American Agri-Women Road to influence.

---

Signature

Date

Employer Representative Name

---

Company Name

---

(continued on following page)

Title

---

Company/Organization

---

Phone Number

Email

---

Please note any comments or concerns below: